"LIFE – Together in the changes and stages of life"

Our current sermon series delves into the vital role of community across all stages of our journey. From childhood and young adulthood to middle age and the later years, this series explores how we can support, pray, and uplift one another through life's transitions.

By grounding each stage in biblical principles and practical insights, this series highlights the significance of nurturing relationships, providing guidance, and fostering faith in Jesus. Ultimately, these teachings aim to inspire a deeper commitment to living in supportive, interconnected communities that thrive through every season of life.

We will explore a Biblical perspective on childhood, youth, marriage, singleness, parenting, seniors, men, women, etc. Join us as we explore together how to understand the challenges of each, the call to live in community together, and the invitation to be obedient to Jesus in every situation of life that we find ourselves in.
